

CLEAR PLATT OF CHARGES OF MAE WOOD

Aged New York Senator Did Not Marry Former Newspaper Woman As She Claimed.

PLAINTIFF ARRESTED AS PERJURER

Sensational Ending Of Sensational Case--Testimony Proves The Wood Woman Was Never Wedded To "Boss" Platt--Case Dismissed By Judge.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, May 21.—Almost an international as were the initial steps of the suit of Mae Wood for the declaration of the aged New York Senator, came the final to the case this morning when the judge dismissed the suit and ordered the arrest of the woman for perjury.

Card Hidden

The hidden card in the whole drama came this morning when nearly all the testimony was in and both the aged Senator and the fair plaintiff who sought freedom from an alleged marriage had testified on the stand. When confident depositions had been read by both the attorneys for the defendant and plaintiff.

After Marriage

This bond which closed the case was signed when the attorney for Platt presented a deposition from Frederick H. Haffey, president of the attorney firm which sold the blank form upon which the alleged certificate of marriage was prepared. In which he declared that this particular form of blank was not manufactured or placed on sale until February, 1902, or three months after the alleged marriage took place.

From Clear Sky

It was a shot from the clear sky to the plaintiff's attorneys and the judge immediately took the case from the jury, dismissed it and a few minutes later Miss Wood was placed under arrest charged with perjury and a criminal trial will follow.

Earlier Testimony

Frank H. Platt, son of the defendant, was on the stand earlier in the day and testified that he did not think the letters introduced by Miss Wood in the evidence in her suit for divorce were true copies of those written by his father to her.

No Marriage

He said that none of the letters which were received from Hammel contained any reference to a marriage between the Senator and the woman and in his opinion they were the genuine letters and not those which were presented as copies.

All Surprised

While the testimony had all been favorable to Senator Platt and contrary to the claims made by the plaintiff it was thought the trial would drag on for several days yet and the startling close has surprised all.

PRESBYTERIANS IN ANNUAL MEETINGS

General Assembly Was Called to Order This Morning at Elven o'clock.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Kennan City, Mo., May 21.—Promptly at 11 o'clock this morning the retiring moderator, Rev. William H. Roberts, D. D., of Philadelphia, dropped the gavel calling to order the 120th session of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church of America. The entire body of commissioners, numbering nearly 1,000, and their alternates of equal number, gathered with many interested visitors, filled the great auditorium when Moderator Roberts announced the body convened. For the first time in the history of the church the states of the south and southwest were well represented at the assembly.

The interior of the big convention hall, one of the largest auditoriums in America, is handsomely decorated with flags, bunting and banners. In the audience were representatives of more than a dozen nationalities, many attending the assembly as commissioners and others because of the great interest the sessions have aroused.

The opening session of the retiring moderator occupied the time until a recess was taken for luncheon. Upon ressembling later this afternoon the assembly will proceed to the election of a new moderator, for which office there are several candidates, though the interest in the contest is not nearly so keen as in some previous years.

The election of his successor is one of the first orders of business for the assembly. The sessions will continue probably for ten days, during which time the work of the denomination in all its various branches of activity will be carefully reviewed and plans outlined and decided upon for the ensuing year.

MUNSON TO RETIRE; HANDLE'S CAMPAIGN

Governor's Private Secretary Will Leave Politics as an Elective Office to Manage Davidson's Campaign.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., May 21.—Because he will devote himself to the management of the campaign of Governor Davidson for reelection as governor, Colonel O. G. Munson of Vilprou, private secretary to the governor and state senator, will retire himself from public office and will seek neither reelection as state senator nor nomination for congress in the third district. Colonel Munson is one of the most popular republicans in his district and could easily be returned as senator or be sent to congress. He has determined, however, to complete his public service with the reelection of Governor Davidson and will then retire to the management of his newspaper. It is doubtful whether his retirement will be permanent, however, because assuredly his neighborhood will seek to bring him out when in need of a particularly strong candidate.

ENGLISH TO PROFIT BY OUR EXPERIENCE

American Anti-Saloon Campaigns Furnish Material for Great English Movement.

London, May 21.—The experience of American cities in furnishing material for the great prohibition campaign that is now on in England, Cameron Coghett, M. P., who is leading the fight in parliament, has gathered official opinions direct from a number of large cities in the United States where the liquor traffic is prohibited.

The chief of police of Birmingham, Alabama, has written Mr. Coghett that prohibition "has lessened crime 50 per cent; it is a good law generally for all localities and all classes of people."

The chief of police of Cambridge, Mass., writes: "Much better conditions now prevail among the working people and their families as to homes, food and clothing; also the reports of the savings institutions indicate that many more people are saving their surplus earnings rather than squandering the same in the drink habit."

A STATEMENT

Editor of the Gazette:

Several articles have appeared in your paper of late which are outline sermons delivered by a Mr. L. Schmidt, who represents himself to be a Seventh-day Adventist. While Mr. Schmidt may teach some of the views held by this people—as do also the other religious bodies—he never theless advocates doctrine that are positively rejected by the Seventh-day Adventist denomination. Notably among these erroneous ideas is his time-setting theory, in which he declares the second coming of Christ and the end of the world will take place in 1914. Anyone believing in him or reading his articles might be led to think that the gentleman is a Seventh-day Adventist and that this is the view held by them. This denomination never has set the time for the end of the world and has no sympathy whatever with such theories. Therefore, he could make no statement further from the truth and that would more unjustly misrepresent us, and it can only create prejudice against our work. It is not my purpose to discuss in your columns this man's views—some of which are very eccentric—criticize his methods of work, or in any way to injure him or to put a check or bribe upon him, but my only object in making this statement is that the public may know the facts. Mr. Schmidt carries no papers of authority or recognition from the people he claims to represent. Our executive board have advised with him, but he recognizes no council. Let it be known therefore that the Seventh-day Adventist denomination is in no way responsible for the teachings of Mr. Schmidt. As to myself I would humbly say that I have held a suburban connection with our people for 63 years and the last 22 years of my life have been devoted to the gospel ministry. One year ago this spring I moved from my church at La Crosse, Wis., and located at 60 Union street, Janesville, with Christian regard for all.

HORACE McELROY'S DOG HAD TO BE PUT TO DEATH

"Mr. Johnson," the Wise Little Scotch Terrier, is No More—Canine Over-heating and its Cure.

"Mr. Johnson," the intelligent little Scotch terrier which has followed Horace McElroy for so many years, became sick and frothed at the mouth yesterday and on advice of a veterinarian was put to death by the police and buried this morning. About this incident a well-known dog-fancier said: "This case is probably an exception, but in most cases such symptoms as frothing at the mouth which were remarked in a number of instances last Sunday, simply indicate over-heating and are no indication of rabies or anything resembling it. If a dog which is running around in circles and gives out such evidence of being crazy from the heat can be cooled to some shady spot and cold water poured on his head, it will in nine cases out of ten recover. Moreover, a bite inflicted by an animal in this condition is merely accidental and there is no more danger from it than from a similar experience under ordinary circumstances."

BUSINESS MEETING OF THE ASSOCIATION

Last evening the annual business meeting of the Janesville high school Alumni association was held and the following officers elected: Harvey Bailey, President; Frank Phelps, vice-president; E. Makes Nest Lightning Proof.

The humming bird in Australia, no less than man, protects its habitation with a lightning rod. The humming bird before a devastating thunder storm bursts prudently covers the outside of its little nest with cobweb. Silk is a non-conductor of electricity, and since cobweb is silk the humming bird's nest is thereby rendered lightning proof.

Valuable Old 'Cello.

An old 'cello, which the owner at Mount Nourah, Victoria, sent to be repaired, was found to bear the label of Nicolo Amati and the date 1624. There was also found a record of the instrument having been repaired by Louis Dandele of Versailles in 1781 for Louis XVI.

Nene Worse.

A Scotch minister had been away on a vacation, says a writer in Punch, and on his return asked the sexton how all had gone in his absence. "Very well, indeed," was the cheering response. "They do say that most ministers leave some one worse than themselves to fill the pulpit when they go away—but you never do that, sir."

Prolonged Life

There are many persons living to-day, whom doctors have given up to die. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure has added years to their lives. It strengthens the heart nerves and muscles, restores normal heart action, so that it can send the blood through the veins to nourish and sustain life.

"I am glad to recommend Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve Tonic for they have been of great benefit to me. The doctors said I was liable to die any time; my case was incurable. I was told this by doctors in this village and Southern Minnesota. I have used four bottles of Heart Cure and the same of Nerve Tonic, and although not a young man, having passed through the war, I feel younger than I did before. I am feeling better in every way and sleep like a healthy six year old boy. I was advised to use your medicine by a man who is now a perfect specimen of manhood. He tried Dr. Miles' remedy and he said it cured him of heart trouble. Twelve years ago after the doctors had given him up to die."

BOWSER FEUD IS OVER

Samuel and Mother-in-law Have Sincere Reconciliation.

HOW IT ALL CAME ABOUT.

Trouble in the Past Had Been Due to Misunderstandings—They Beg Each Other's Pardon and Promise Never More to Offend.

(Copyright, 1908, by T. C. McClure.)
Mrs. Bowser had run into a neighbor's the other evening after dinner, and Mr. Bowser was smoking and reading when there came a ring at the front door. He waited until it was repeated and then went down the hall with his mind made up to throw the tramp off the steps. As the door swung open his mother-in-law walked in. It was the same woman, with the same watchful, he started back and began to glare at her, and to his amazement, she smiled and held out her hand and said:
"Howdy do, Sammy? I hope you are glad to see me."
"Yes," he replied as he took the hand and shook it lightly.
"I hope Sarah is not ill?"
"No. She's just gone into Green's for a little while."
"Then I'll just go down and help myself to a bit to eat. Don't you put yourself out. Are you feeling well, my son?"
"Yes, pretty well. You—you didn't write that you were coming."
"Nope. I just got ready and came right along. Fact is I wanted to see you and have a little talk with you. We'll have a chat after I have something to eat."
She went down to the dining room, and Mr. Bowser sat down to think. The relations between him and his mother-in-law had been strained for almost twenty years. She had arrived on a visit many, many times before.

"MYXEN AGAIN, SAMMY, WILL I CALL YOU A BUM."

but never to call him Sammy and ask after his health. On the contrary, as the reader knows, she had arrived to play the bulldozer and the tyrant and make him feel his helplessness. On numerous occasions, he had tried to throw off the yoke, but never with success. What did her arrival portend? Why that smile? What was hidden behind that "Sammy?"

Mr. Bowser determined to be on the safe side, and he was about to make a sneak outdoors when a voice came up to him:
"Oh, Sammy, don't get impatient! I'll be with you in five minutes."
He felt himself turning pale and his heart beating faster. Had she come to lecture him on his latest scheme to start on ostrich farm? Had she heard that he wanted to sell the house and lot and go into business? Had any one told her that he stood ready to go on a search for the north pole? If not that, was she going to call him a scoundrel and a villain and break up his home by insisting that her daughter get a divorce?

Made Up Mind to Fight.
It was a bad ten minutes that Mr. Bowser spent with himself, and he had just made up his mind to fight to the last gasp when the mother-in-law came upstairs. She was still smiling. She extended her hand for another shake and then sat down beside him and said:
"Yes, Sammy, I'm real glad to see you again. I've been doing lots of thinking about you since New Year's. I wanted to come down then, but I couldn't quite arrange it. Did you say you were glad to see me?"
"If you pitch into me I shall answer back."

"Pitch into you, Sammy? Why should I do such a thing as that? Why should I pitch into my favorite son-in-law?"
"But the last time you were here you called me a heartless beast and said you wanted me to understand that you ran this house and me too. The time before that you drew the ax on me and made me stop thithering with the furniture."
"I did? Why, I don't remember anything about it. If it was so, then I beg your pardon. I'm sure you are the last man on earth whose feelings I should want to hurt. Did Sarah say anything about the letter from me two weeks ago?"
"Yes, I believe she did say something, but I didn't pay much attention."

"Didn't she tell you that I said you were one of the best husbands on earth and that I hoped she appreciated you?"
"No."

"I must speak to her about it. Maybe she thought it wouldn't do to praise you too much. I never can be thankful enough that she found such a good husband. Sammy, I noticed a bottle of claret on the sideboard. You might stop down and take a nip."
"But the last time you were here you called me an old bum because I took a nip."

"That was just an old woman's way, you know. Hum! Why, I should like to hear any one refer to you as a bum in my presence!"
Mr. Bowser felt weak and wobbly, and he went down and took a nip—two of 'em. When he returned the mother-in-law reached for his hand and said:
"Yes, Sammy; I got to thinking on New Year's day what a good man you were, and I found myself feeling sorry that I had ever said anything to hurt your feelings. I came this time to beg your pardon and promise to be a different mother-in-law hereafter. Can you overlook the past, Sammy?"
"Do you mean that you didn't comdown here to 'bulldoze' and 'blow around'?" he asked.

"Why, Sammy, how could I think of such a thing?"
"Once, when I bought a pig, you said I didn't know as much as a boy ten years old."
"Then I must have been crazy. I'd take another nip of that claret if I were you."

Mr. Bowser went down and took another nip—two of 'em.
"I may have said mean things, Sammy, but I never meant them," said the mother-in-law as he returned. "I have made up my mind to begin this year right."

"I bought some chickens, and you said I hadn't the brains of a grasshopper."
"Is it possible?"
"I wanted to clean house once as you came here, and you picked up the butcher knife and ordered me out. You said you would as soon murder me as not."

"Upon my word, but I must have been crazy!"
"And once you told Sarah right before me that if you had to live with such a husband as I am you'd pour hot lead into his ears while he slept."

"Then I ought to have been sent to an asylum. Say, Sammy, there's a bottle of claret on the sideboard."
Mr. Bowser went down and saw that she was correct, and he took a nip—two of 'em.

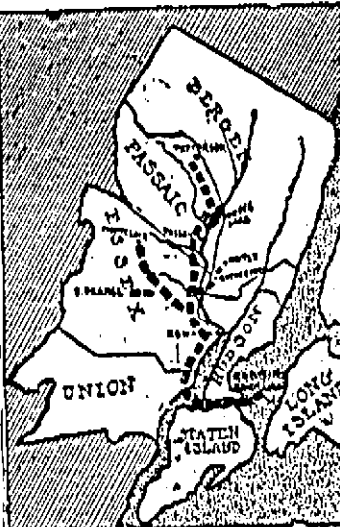

Begged His Forgiveness.
"Sit right here, and we'll hold hands and talk," said the mother-in-law as he came back in a melting mood. "I want you to forgive me if I've ever hurt your feelings."

"I will!"
"I want you to know that I think you are the best man on earth."
"Thanks!"
"And I want you to think me the best woman."

"I do."
"Never again, Sammy, will I call you a bum. Never again will I draw an ax on you. Never again will I threaten you with the butcher knife or say that you haven't the brains of a grasshopper. I want love and peace and harmony between us. I want the whole world to know how proud of you I am. Sammy, let us slug!"

"For he's a jolly good fellow—
For he's a jolly good fellow—
Mr. Bowser went down for another nip—two of 'em—from the bottle, but found it empty. He therefore put on his hat and overcoat to renew the supply. He saw two mothers-in-law and went out of two doors. There were two gates, and he hadn't proceeded a hundred feet when he leaned up against two fences to think it over. Pretty soon what seemed like two policemen came along, and both of them said to him:
"Well, old cock, what are you doing here?"

"My name's Bowsher."
"What?"
"Mother-in-law has come down to see me."
"Yes?"
"And shay, she's 'er best old gal in all this world. She begs my pardon—I beg hers, and
"She's a jolly good fellow—
She's a jolly good fellow—
She's a jolly—
"Shay, officer, put me in my libby bed and tell everybody that I died of too much happiness!" M. QUAD.

NEW JERSEY TO HAVE LONGEST SEWER IN THE WORLD.

Newark, N. J.—The report of the Passaic Valley sewerage commission of New Jersey was made public yesterday afternoon, giving estimates in detail of the cost of the trunk sewer system from Paterson through various municipalities in the northern part of the state to New York harbor, and also outlining the course such a sewer would follow.

The experts of the board estimate that the cost of the project would be $12,250,000, the amount being divided among the counties of Passaic, Essex, Hudson and Bergen as follows: Essex, $3,819,792.15; Passaic, $2,721,853.67; Bergen, $2,555,810.00; and Hudson, $582,722.86. Among the larger municipalities having the advantages of the sewer the amounts would be for Newark, $6,361,496.38; Paterson, $2,098,425.28; East Orange, $339,502.31; Montclair, $555,577.11; Passaic, $593,375.36; Bloomfield, $175,115.37; and Belleville, $121,475.80.

The fixed charge would represent a tax of less than $1 per $1,000. The route of the proposed sewer is from Prospect street, Paterson, through Acquackanonk, Dundee Lake, to Hopewell avenue, Passaic. Thence with a connection for Saddle river along the river road, with connections for the Rutherford and Sayre's lane to Nutley.

Shipping across Third river to Belleville, it would pass through, for example, street, with connections, there with North Arlington and Union townships. From Belleville it would follow the river road to Verona avenue, where connections with Orange, East Orange, Montclair, Glen Ridge and Westfield would be made.

Passing through Newark, with connections with that city, Kearney, Harrison and East Newark, the sewer would pass alongside the Passaic river to the pumping station near the Hackensack tunnel to find outlet in the Jersey waters of New York bay near Hoboken's Reef light.

"KAYSER GLOVES"

As Seen by Him.
We live in a machine age. We are wound up like automata and we do the same things at the same time, never vary, never make the slightest departure from the conventional, and yet we think we enjoy ourselves. Perhaps if we could devise some departure from our routine we would be less migratory, and we would be able to conquer our nomadic habits.—Vogue.

Money-Making Ways of Using Want Ads

To Buy or Sell a Picture or Painting

It is in the easy reach of anybody to have copies of the work of masters—at a trifling price. But the frames cost so much! Here is a suggestion: place a little Want Ad in this paper under the heading, "Pictures and Paintings," stating that you want to Buy or Sell certain pictures. There are many people who get tired of the same pictures in their home if they are of the inexpensive kind, and will be glad to Sell for little money if their attention is called to the fact. Perhaps you have Pictures in your home you would like to Sell, then take the money and get new ones. Many people Buy and Sell expensive Paintings this way—pick up Bargains. It certainly is economical. A Want Ad costs but a few cents—and the price is the same to everybody.

EXAMPLES

WANT TO BUY PAINTINGS COPIES, FRAMED in best style. Will pay reasonable price for different subjects. Any pictures in your home you want to sell cheaply? Address: J. D. Adams, 1210, this office.

HAVE ORIGINAL VAN DYKE PAINTINGS FOR sale in highest bidder. Open to family for more but must now accept. Will gladly show. Address: J. D. Adams, 1210, this office.

THREE LINES, THREE TIMES, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

Our little Want Ads are read EVERYWHERE this paper goes—at the fire-side, the shop, the office, on the farm, in hotels, at libraries and in other cities. What better REASON for YOU to test our Classified page? Inasmuch as it is read by ALL classes of people, you are bound to REACH just the people who will be INTERESTED in YOUR Want Ad.

True and False Friendship.

Noah Webster distinguished between true and false friendship as follows:

"True friendship is a noble and virtuous attachment, springing from a pure source, a respect for worth or unalloyed qualities. False friendship may subsist between bad men, as between thieves and pirates. This is a temporary attachment, springing from interest, and may change in a moment to enmity and rancor."

Appeal to His Friends.

ENGLISH PLAYERS COMING.

Judging From Plans, the Britishers Are Preparing For Revenge Because of the Americans' Refusal to Compete in Olympics-Important Dates.

Optimism of the sort which will overcome mountains of obstacles is the predominant virtue among the lawn tennis players and enthusiasts as they stand upon the threshold of the twenty-eighth season of the sport in this country. There are so many reasons for its being viewed through rose colored glasses even by the dilutive few who are disposed to take an oblique glance at the arrangement of things. Of the manifold reasons for exuberance manifested the prospect of international tennis with an English invading team in this country looms large and interesting. Then from the colleges and universities the word has been passed which is to be a potent factor in the upbuilding of the American game.

The schedule of the United States National Lawn Tennis association lengthened materially when it was issued some time ago. That in itself was an indication of the steady and healthy growth of the sport.

In the east the dryness of the former year early in July and continued until the beginning of September has been completely filled with tournaments that will surely prove of absorbing interest. In this respect the new organizations have found their place and are vying with the country clubs. That the larger and more important organizations are to hold tournaments during the coming season where such have never been held before is a fair indication that there is either a general turning to the courts by those who have only played occasionally or that a vast number of younger players have reached that stage where they have made insistent demands to which the clubs are giving attention. The list of new tournaments has furnished its many surprises in the way of opening the most unexpected places for the following.

The affairs connected with the international challenge matches for the Dwight F. Davis cup have taken some form after a most vexatious delay, during which there was a critical period when it looked as if the English would go to Australia and leave the Americans to journey there also or default. But that was not at all the programme that the officials of this country had planned. They had to make it very plain that this country would not send any official entries for the Olympic games championships. It was final. Now the English have consented to visit this country, and from their plans they may be preparing to take satisfaction in revenge because of the Americans' refusal for the Olympics. As it stands, the English players are to arrive in this country the latter part of July or the 1st of August. Their appearances at the all comers' national championship at Newport is certain, and there is a feeling that they may repeat the wrestling of the laurels as did H. L. Doherty five years ago.

Naturally the international ties for the privilege to challenge Australia will be decided about the same time, and the Englishmen will either continue on to the Pacific coast, playing in tournaments, or they will return home. In any event, the challenges of the Australians will be called upon to play the cup matches the 1st of November.

All in all, the same steady growth of the game is afforded on every side. Better conditions are to prevail, and with them will follow better play.

Some of the important matches to be decided this coming season are as follows:

May 20-Kings County Lawn Tennis club, Brooklyn; Long Island championship; open.

May 21-Bachors' Lawn Tennis club, Washington; middle Atlantic states championship.

May 22-Longwood Cricket club, Boston; New England intercollegiate championship.

July 22-Chicago; western championship doubles, western singles for men and women.

July 23-Longwood Cricket club, Boston; eastern doubles championship and seven-tenth annual Longwood singles.

Aug. 13, 14 and 15-Crescent Athletic club, east, west and south doubles championship.

Aug. 18-Newport, R. I.; national championship in singles, championship doubles and intercollegiate studies championship.

Aug. 20-Niagara Lawn Tennis club; international and Canadian championship held at the same time, Niagara-on-the-Lake, Canada.

Aug. 21-Chicoutimi; tennis championship (Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky).

Sept. 10-Motion Field club; New Jersey state championship.

Oct. 2-Longwood Cricket club, Boston; women's singles, doubles and mixed doubles.

Oct. 2-Motion Cricket club, Philadelphia; intercollegiate championship.

Now is the Accepted Time.

Higher than question of our duration is the question of our deserving. Immortality will come to such as are fit for it; and he who would be a great soul in the future must be a great soul now.—Emerson.

REPORT AGAINST LILLEY ADOPTED

WILLIAMS CALLS CONNECTICUT MEMBER A TRAITOR.

VOTE OF HOUSE, 157 TO 82

Senator Rayner Again Asks Action on His Stewart Resolution—Omnibus Public Buildings Bill Passes.

Washington, May 21.—The conclusions of the special committee which has been investigating the charges of Representative Lilley of Connecticut, that members of the house had been improperly influenced in connection with submarine torpedo boat legislation, that Mr. Lilley had violated his obligations as a member and had acted in bad faith with the committee and in contempt of the house, were sustained Wednesday by the house by a vote of 157 to 82.

Five hours of the session were devoted to the case, four of which were consumed in reading the report. The Connecticut members joined in voting against the resolution by which the house adopted the conclusions of the committee as its own.

Treason, Says Williams.
Mr. Williams of Mississippi denounced Mr. Lilley as being guilty of treason for which, he said, he should be expelled. He presumed that the reason the committee did not carry its report to a recommendation to that end was because Mr. Lilley was at his home in and unable to be present to defend himself in such a proceeding. It was a noticeable fact that the five members of the special committee, Messrs. Boutwell, Olmsted, Stevens,

George L. Lilley.

Brennand and Howard, sat together throughout the proceedings and that none of them submitted any remarks in connection with the report.

The partial conference report on the sundry civil appropriation bill occasioned a lively debate. It was adopted and the conference will continue their efforts to arrive at a complete agreement.

Rayner Reviews Stewart Case.
Senator Rayner again made an appeal to the senate for a vote on a resolution "authorizing and requesting" the president to appoint a court of inquiry to investigate charges against Col. William F. Stewart, coast artillery, stationed at Fort Grant, Ariz.

Mr. Rayner declared his belief that the committee on military affairs would not report his resolution during the present session of congress and asked that a modified resolution be had prepared be acted upon by the senate without the intervention of the committee. Objection being made, the further consideration of the resolution was postponed.

The omnibus public buildings bill was passed by the senate. It carries appropriations aggregating about $85,000,000. A bill to prevent the desecration of the flag of the United States was passed.

The conference report on the fortifications appropriation bill was adopted and a partial agreement on the sundry civil bill was reported by conferees and approved by the senate.

Kinds of Storms.

There is a distinct difference between cyclones, tornadoes and hurricanes. The ordinary windstorms which visit the United States are properly cyclones and they usually come from the northwest or southwest. Hurricanes never come from the northwest, but usually from the south or southeast. The tornado is the most violent of all storms and is characterized by a pendant, funnel-shaped cloud with a rapid rotary motion. It moves in a narrow path at from 15 to 60 miles an hour. The rotary velocity is enormous, being from 100 to 500 miles an hour.

Preparation for Knowledge.

No man can learn what he has not preparation for learning, however near to his eyes is the subject. A chemist may tell his most precious secrets to a carpenter, and he shall be pover the wiser—the secrets he would not utter to a chemist for an estate. God screens us overmore from promiscuous ideas. Our eyes are holden that we can not see things that stare us in the face until the hour arrives when the mind is ripened; then we behold them, and the time when we saw them not is like a dream.—Emerson.

"Without."

"I'd like a glass of plain effervescing drink," said a thirsty man. "You had vanilla, or you had raspberry?" asked the young woman—a Teuton behind the counter. "I want a plain drink, no flavoring—understand me?" responded the thirsty man, testily. "Yes, but what kind flavoring you want him not?" Without vanilla, or without raspberry?

STUDENT FATALLY SHOT.

He and Companion Accused of Trying to Steal Sign.

New York, May 21.—Edgar H. Cook, a first-year student in the school of sciences at Columbia university and said to be the son of a prominent lawyer of Albany, N. Y., was shot in the head and it is feared, fatally wounded, by a policeman Wednesday night.

Howard P. Cole, a companion of Cook, was arrested after Cook had been shot. Cole is also a Columbia student and both young men were charged with attempted burglary. The police allege that the students were detected in attempting to tear down a sign from a refreshment booth on Riverside drive.

NEWSPAPER MAN IS SLAIN.

M. M. Harrell Shot by Proprietor of El Paso News.

El Paso, Tex., May 21.—Monroe M. Harrell, formerly of Oklahoma City, Okla., but for a number of years connected with newspaper work in El Paso, was shot and instantly killed here Wednesday night by J. P. Mitchell, proprietor of the El Paso Evening News. Mitchell, who was arrested soon after the shooting, claims that Harrell had threatened to take his life.

Violent Storm in Northwest.

St. Paul, Minn., May 21.—A terrific electrical, wind, rain and hail storm raged throughout the northwest Wednesday afternoon and night. A special from Wapeton, N. D., says that the main tent of a circus blow down there while 2,000 people were within. Several were hurt.

Indiana Prohibition Ticket.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 21.—The prohibitionists of Indiana Wednesday nominated a full state ticket with the exception of judges of the higher courts. For governor, Sumner W. Haynes of Portland was nominated.

GRAND PARADE OF VETERANS.

Members of Illinois G. A. R. in Line at Quincy.

Quincy, Ill., May 21.—The feature of the forty-second encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic was the great parade Wednesday in which nearly 3,000 veterans and state militia participated. There were seven bands.

The report of Assistant Adj. Gen. Charles A. Partridge showed a net loss in members during the year of 187; net loss in posts, eight; death rate, 43 per cent. There are 18,024 members in the department.

Reports were presented in meetings of the Women's Relief corps, Ladies of the Grand Army, Sons of Veterans, Daughters of Veterans, Sons of Veterans' Auxiliary and War Musicians' union.

Gas Explosion Wrecks Store.

Chicago, May 21.—An explosion of gas in the basement of the John A. Colby & Sons furniture store, 154 Wabash avenue, Wednesday afternoon partly wrecked the newly remodeled establishment and probably fatally injured Miss Frances Brandtzy, cashier of the company. A dozen other persons had narrow escapes. A careless search for a leak in the gas pipes is given as the cause of the accident.

Meets Predicted Death Bravely.

New York, May 21.—The fate that the physicians at the Pasteur institute predicted for him on Monday overtook William H. Marsh of Brooklyn late Wednesday, when at his residence on Ocean avenue the well-to-do manufacturer of water meters died of hydrophobia. His end was peaceful, as he was put under the influence of opiates early in the day and was kept free from pain to the last.

Court of Honor Picks Indianapolis.

Springfield, Ill., May 21.—Indianapolis was selected Wednesday as the place for the next meeting in 1910 of the biennial session of the supreme court of the Court of Honor.

The Perambulating Showcase

By Herbert Kaufman.

The newspaper is a huge shop window, carried about the city and delivered daily into hundreds of thousands of homes, to be examined at the leisure of the reader. This shop window is unlike the actual plate glass showcase only in one respect—it makes display of descriptions instead of articles.

You have often been impressed by the difference between the decorations of two window-trimmers, each of whom employed the same materials for his work. The one drew your attention and held it by the grace and cleverness and art manifested in his display. The other realized so little of the possibilities in the materials placed at his disposal that unless some one called your attention to his bungling you would have gone on unconscious of its existence.

An advertiser must know that he gets his results in accordance with the skill exercised in preparing his verbal displays. He must make people stop and pause. His copy has to stand out.

He must not only make a show of things that are attractive to the eye but are attractive to the people's needs, as well.

The window-trimmer must not make the mistake of thinking that the showiest stocks are the most salable. The advertiser must not make the mistake of thinking that the showiest words are the most clinching.

Windows are too few in number to be used with indiscretion. The good merchant puts those goods back of his plate glass which nine people out of ten will want after they have seen them.

The good advertiser tells about goods which nine readers out of ten will buy if they can be convinced.

Newspaper space itself is only the window just as the showcase is but a frame for merchandise pictures. A window on a crowded street in the best neighborhood, where prosperous persons pass continually, is more desirable than one in a cheap, sparsely settled neighborhood. An advertisement in a newspaper with the most readers and the most prosperous ones possesses a great advantage over the same copy in a medium circulating among persons who possess less means. It would be foolish for a shop to build its windows in the alleyway—and just as much so to put the advertising into mediums that have no regular readers. The Gazette goes into almost every home in Janesville and no other method of advertising reaches so many homes so cheaply.

STRIKE MAY BE ENDED SOON.

Good Progress Toward Peace in the Cleveland Trouble.

Cleveland, O., May 21.—Greater progress in settling the street railway strike peacefully and by arbitration was made Wednesday than any day since the strike began. Both sides made material concessions.

President Du Pont of the Municipal Traction company stated that he would take back the old employees as new men. He insisted upon giving the present men at work the preference. This was objectionable to the union. In a later conference with the union the members of the state board of arbitration obtained a slight concession from the strikers. They agreed to have the men go back as new men as a temporary expedient. Coupled with this, however, was the further agreement to allow the future status of the strikers to be arbitrated.

Later it was stated that the company and the strikers had agreed and that the formalities of preparing the arbitration bill would proceed. Meantime, it was further stated, there would be an armistice and the strikers would be advised to return to work at once.

Violence ceased to be a prominent factor in the strike during the day and evening. Mayor Johnson issued a proclamation offering rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons placing explosives on the tracks.

COMMON SENSE!

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into the composition of their medicines, are daily giving in favor of the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody. Dr. Pierce's medicines are of having the scientific method of investigation turned fully upon his formulae, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, chloroform and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages, no medicine will do that; yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-over coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

"Take the 'Golden Medical Discovery' at once and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical doctors—better than any amount of lay or non-professional testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

CHAPTER VI.

When we met at breakfast the next morning there were no signs of the breach between Vincent and myself except his unusual pallor, which suggested to me that he, too, had spent a sleepless night.

The girls were inclined to joke our solemn faces, but so long as the mood passed off without disclosing that something was amiss between us I did not care. All day we saw nothing of each other, but this was not unusual, as we always pursued different courses. I spent most of my time with Agatha Fourth, the only honorable, whom I found to be a really delightful girl and certainly the possessor of remarkable musical talent.

In the evening the others went out to row on the lake and left Agatha Fourth alone with me. She sat at the piano and played everything she could think of, while I lay on a broad divan where I could watch her and listen to the soft music.

I suppose that my hot night had something to do with the fact that I was bored enough to fall asleep while the beautiful Agatha Fourth was playing for me. Certainly I know that I was guilty of that appalling rudeness, for I was suddenly brought to a state of consciousness by the sound of a clock striking. I counted the strokes mechanically—there were 12. I must have slept for hours, and, sure enough, the room was dark except for the fire-light, and my slightest hostess was gone from the piano stool. As I was about to rise I heard voices, and, turning, I saw on the other side of the piano a man and a girl. The man was Vincent, of course, and I thought, as I looked at him sitting full in the bright firelight, that he had never looked so handsome. His evening dress showed off his superb athletic form to the best advantage, and his face was fresh and strong, with the bronze of his tan extending to the roots of his hair, which was cut close to conceal a wave in the gold of it. It occurred to me at once that his face had lost much of its boyishness and he looked every inch a man. But it took me some time to realize that the girl who sat with him was none other than the secretary.

At first I could not tell what it was that had so changed her, whether it was her shimmering white evening gown, or the gleaming bracelets, until at last it came to me in a flash that it was nothing more nor less than the glory of her hair that had wrought the transformation. I had never seen the secretary with her hair down any way but plainly and unbecomingly, but now it was dressed as I knew it should have been dressed long ago. She wore it low on her long, slender neck, ruffled at the sides and rippling loosely from her forehead, in shining waves and little willful rings held in place with big shell combs.

And when at last it dawned upon me that it was really the secretary who was Vincent's companion, so breathless was I with amazement that at first I hardly realized that I could hear perfectly what they were saying. And when I did realize it, I wanted to rise and let them know that I was there, but on second thought I saw that I must have been there for so long that they would never believe that I had not heard the whole of their conversation. Furthermore, it occurred to me that it might be well if I stayed to hear what Miss Marsh had to say for herself.

"And so I calmly took the dress and put it on, just to amuse myself," I heard the secretary saying, "and did my hair the way the others do theirs, you know. And it was so late I thought no one would find me here."

"And if I hadn't left my pipe on the table no one would have found you, and I—think what I should have missed!" Vincent's voice was eloquent.

"Of course, it was very vain of me, very vain," she went on; "but you know when a girl has to earn her own living she gets a little tired of all work and no play, and sometimes the impulse to pretend she's fortunate and happy and—pretty"—the secretary flushed under Vincent's gaze as she faltered the last word, and hurried on—"and like the others—is so strong that it tempts her to deck herself out in borrowed plumage and sit in an empty drawing room at 12 o'clock at night enjoying the illusion for a brief hour."

"No," said Vincent, softly, "I don't think it was vain; I think it was the most natural thing in the world, and—and I'm glad you did it," he ended, rather lamely.

The secretary laughed, and I wondered what there was about the sound that made Vincent rave over it. Then, as his eyes wandered to her hair, he sighed.

"Why sighest thou, oh, furnace?" she smiled at him.

"I was just thinking about something," "About what?" "You don't want to hear?" "All right, then." He turned on her swiftly. "I was just looking," he said, "at your hair. I'll bet the angels have hushes like that."

The secretary blushed. "It's horrid hair," she said, giving it a vindictive little pull that only brought it to a more charming disarray. "I hate the color of it. Why, when I was a child I never could bear to have the hair of the fairy tales have a shining head of golden hair, and I used to think mine was gold, and one day when I said so and was told, 'No, your hair is red, not gold,' I cried for days afterward."

"You poor little thing!" he said, his face as full of sympathy as if those tears had just been shed. And for the life of her the secretary couldn't help her lip trembling, though she knew it was absurd and was very much ashamed of herself. Vincent broke the silence first. "We might do a little on the 'Dead Harp of Wyckhoff,'" he suggested. It was evident that our

Pepsin Can't Do All

Pepsin digests only albumen—not starch, not fat. Digesters that depend on pepsin are but half-way helps. Kodol alone digests all foods—does it at once and completely. Please note our guarantee.

It is wrong to suffer from indigestion, when Kodol means instant relief. Please let it digest your food.

If your ankle was lame you would aid it. If the body was weak you would rest it. It is far more important to rest the weak stomach.

Not by dieting, for that means partial starvation. The body requires many sorts of food. To cut out some elements means to rob some parts. But let Kodol, for a little time, do what the stomach can't do. Then see how quickly the stomach recovers.

Undigested food grows hard, and irritates the stomach lining. It causes inflammation—sometimes ulceration. That is the source of the pain. It also ferments and forms gas. It decays and breeds germs. And those germs load the blood with their poisons. That leads to serious troubles.

Don't think that the stomach can ever get strong while these conditions continue.

Kodol consists of all the digestive elements, in highly concentrated form. It digests all sorts of food, and completely. It does all that the healthiest stomach can do.

Pepsin is part of it, but pepsin digests albumen only. Starch requires something else, fat something else. Kodol combines all that is needed.

Digesters which depend solely on pepsin do only what pepsin does. They are but half-way treatments. Other elements are just as essential, and they must be in liquid form.

That is why Kodol is liquid. And, because it is liquid, like the digestive juices, its action is stant. It even begins in the mouth—by increasing the flow of saliva.

The action of Kodol can be easily proved, either in the stomach or out of it.

Eat what you need of the food that you want, and take Kodol. Note the absence of pain, and gas. You know to a certainty that the food is digesting.

Or you can see it digest food in a test-tube, under proper conditions. In these laboratory tests, Kodol digests every whit of the food, just as it does in the stomach. All other digesters digest but part of the food, just as they do in the stomach.

Don't employ half-way measures, for the stomach needs complete relief. Any undigested food will, through irritation, interfere with the cure. Nothing but Kodol does all that must be done. No other digester can digest all foods.

Our Guarantee

We ask you to prove these statements at our risk. Buy a dollar bottle of Kodol, and ask for the signed guarantee. If the results are not as claimed, take the empty bottle back with the warrant, and your druggist will return your money.

This offer applies to the large bottle only, and to but one in a family. This is sufficient to prove how much Kodol means to you.

If you need relief, won't you learn how to get it on such a full offer as that? Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1.00 bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c bottle.

HIGHEST PRAISE.

Some Janesville Citizens Grow Enthusiastic on the Subject.

The praise of the public is the merit's just reward. Nothing in modern times has received the praise accorded "The Little Conqueror."

Of some kinds of praise we are skeptical. We doubt the praise of strangers.

The highest praise for Janesville public.

Is hearty expression from Janesville people.

Don't's Kidney Pills are endorsed in Janesville.

No better proof of merit can be had. Here's a case of it. We have plenty more like it.

Mrs. B. F. Jones, of 157 Western Ave., Janesville, Wis., says: "I was not free from attacks of backache for a single day during several years past. I used so many remedies without getting any relief that I came to the conclusion that nothing would help me and stopped trying. I went about all bent over, could not straighten up at all and had a dull pain across the loins and a feeling of weakness that made it hard for me even to rise from a chair. At night I would awaken with the feeling that a great weight was breaking my back, and anyone who has suffered from kidney trouble will know what torture I endured. Finally I saw Don't's Kidney Pills advertised and wondered if there was really any use of trying another remedy, but seeing them recommended by people in Janesville I procured a box at the People's Drug Co. and began using them. Gradually I regained strength and the pains and aches finally disappeared. Since I have discontinued their use I have not had an attack of backache nor any symptom of kidney trouble, and I believe Don't's Kidney Pills worthy of all the praise that one gives them."

Beans vs. Meat

Beans and meat have about the same food value, but not the same cost

Which would you rather serve?

Beans are 23 per cent nitrogenous—84 per cent nutrient. They are Nature's choicest food. If you could serve them once a day, think how much you would save on your meat bills.

Will it not pay you to get the best beans—beans that are always ready—beans that your people will want?

Encourage your folks to eat beans. They are appetizing, hearty, cheap

You who serve home-baked beans don't serve them often, because they are hard to prepare and hard to digest. Beans, to be digestible, must be factory cooked. Your oven isn't hot enough; you can't break down their fibre. And, beans should be baked in live steam, as ours are. Then they are meaty and nutty and whole.

Van Camp's pork and beans baked with tomato sauce

The beans that we buy cost $2.10 per bushel. Other beans sell as low as 30 cents.

We spend five times as much to make our tomato sauce as other sauce costs ready-made.

That's why some brands may be cheaper. But the most economical, in the long run, are those that your people like.

Our beans, our tomato sauce and our pork are baked 90 minutes together

Thus we get our delicious blend. And Van Camp's have a nutty flavor, a sparkling zest, a piquant tang that you can't get in other brands.

Keep a dozen cans in the house—a dozen meals always ready. For you will eat more beans than you think you will, when you once get a taste of Van Camp's.

10, 15 and 20¢ per can.

Are you satisfied with your doctor? Are you gaining? If you are not, you are not getting the best. Dr. Brewer has a new and original method of treating chronic diseases. Over 17,500 cases recorded on his case book show the results obtained. No matter what your complaint is, no matter how long you have been sick or how many doctors have treated you, try my method once. It never fails where there is a possibility of a cure and the directions are fully followed.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, May 21, 1868.—Serious Accident—A man named Richard O'Donnell sustained a serious injury yesterday while engaged in loading stone onto the cars at Milwaukee's quarry. In some way his right hand was caught in the axle block of the derrick and three fingers were torn off while a fourth was badly smashed. The injury was an exceedingly painful one.

Chicago, May 21.—An additional resolution was made that the adjournment of the convention should not work a dissolution of the same, but it shall remain organized, subject to be called together again at any time. General Schurz moved additional resolutions recognizing the principles of the Declaration of Independence as the true foundation of democratic government.

A motion to proceed to ballot for president was agreed to. Logan in the name of the loyal people and soldiers of the republican party nominated U. S. Grant.

The whole convention rose to their feet. Grant cheered. Prolonged applause. Three cheers for Grant. Music.

side, "Hail To The Chief." Roll of states called, each voting for Grant. During the progress of the call each successive vote was received with great enthusiasm. The chair announced three hundred and fifty votes, all for Grant.

As the vote was announced, the curtain was dropped, and the stage uncovered, presenting a fine portrait of General Grant, supported by Liberty. On motion three times three was given for the nominee. The convention joined in singing "Hail Round The Flag" accompanied by the band. Enthusiasm indescribable.

Washington, May 21.—Senator Henderson was examined by the impeachment managers yesterday, and said no delegation called on him to urge impeachment from a party point of view. He rejected this view and informed them his duties were judicial and not political. Some feeling arose. When under the excitement of the moment Mr. Henderson said he would resign his seat. After reflection, however, he concluded this course would be wholly inadvisable and he so informed the members.

He entered the skirts of the village. A troop of strange children ran at his heels, hooting after him, and pointing at his gray beard. The dogs, too, barked at him as he passed.—From "The Van Winkle" by Irving. Find one of the children.

AT THE PLAY HOUSES

Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels. What is universally conceded to be the most original minstrel show ever presented for the entertainment of the public is the new production which has been made this year by Al. G. Field for his Greater Minstrel organization. While it is a bold departure from the accepted order of minstrel shows, Mr. Field's conception for this season's presentation retains the salient features of American minstrelsy, which are presented in the first part with the most lavish display of costumes and scenery. The "black" and "white face," singers, comedians and dancers, have an embellishment of surroundings, that for artistic effect, has never been equalled in any theatrical production, either operatic, or dramatic. The first part is presented in a large hall, or conservatory, with glass roof and sides, within which, backed tier upon tier, are plants, and flowers, which being electrically articulated, burst into blinding bloom when the curtain rises, disclosing the minstrels seated among the foliage. In the background an electric fountain sends upward cascades of water, which are tinged with all the colors of the rainbow, as they rise and fall. The perfect harmony of color and lighting effect, is so real to the eye, and the ensemble of singers and dancers, under the hypnotic sway of the orchestra, compels the admiration of all lovers of really high class entertainment. The Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels will be here at the Myers theater Monday, May 25.

The proposition of the regeneration of a thief and the reclaiming of a person led astray through breeding and association is the theme treated by C. M. S. McLaughlin, the playwright, in his drama, "Leah Kleckham," which will be presented at the Myers Grand opera-house by the Sherman Brown Stock company, Wednesday, May 27, for one night only. The company comes direct from its triumph in Milwaukee, where it has been rounding out a phenomenal season at the Davidson theater. The cast includes Theodore Roberts, Mary Hall, Louise Hunter, Edward Mackay, Robert Hughes, W. W. Davis, Robert McVade, Jr., Dudley Hawley, Ethel Clayton, Eva Vincent and other actors of prominence. The engagement is for the night only.

KAYSER GLOVES

Before His Day of Power. There is preserved in the archives of Theatre Francaise in Paris a card which reads: "Pass the Citizen Bonaparte to this evening's performance of 'Marius'—Taine." This shows that the Emperor Napoleon, when he was only an olive-complexioned lieutenant of artillery, and had very little money to spend, was very glad of passes to the theater. It is said that the future ruler of France used to lie in wait for Taine, a tragedian of that day, in the galleries of the Palais Royal, and that the actor used often to whisper to his companion: "The other way, if you don't mind, I see Bonaparte coming and I'm afraid he'll ask me for seats."

Of Little Faith. Many men do not allow their principles to take root, but pull them up every now and then, as children do flowers they have planted, to see if they are growing.—Longfellow.

Veteran Theater Manager Dies. Chicago, May 21.—John Austin Hamilton, proprietor of the Grand opera house, died Wednesday night at the Virginia hotel of heart disease. He was one of the best known theatrical managers in the country and noted for the independent manner in which he conducted the Grand opera house. He built the theater in 1872.
